LLOYD'S LIST 1741-1826

This reproduction has been made by kind permission of the Corporation of Lloyd's from the volumes in its London archives. These represent the most comprehensive extant run of the List and are therefore reproduced with all marginalia and other manuscript additions intact.

The collection does not include any issues for 1742, 1743, 1745, 1746, 1754, 1756, 1759 or 1778; while various individual issues are lacking from certain volumes.

Every effort has been made to achieve consistent quality throughout this reproduction but it inevitably reflects certain defects of the original: variations of paper and impression, staining through age and constant reference, slight external damage caused by oversewing or cropping of single issues when bound in volume form.

Each volume of the reproduction includes as appropriate a list of missing and damaged issues as well as notes on dating and inconsistencies of issue numbering. Notes on the rival publications Lloyd's List and New Lloyd's List are contained in the relevant reprint volumes: i.e. those covering the years 1768 to 1788 inclusive.

The William & Mary, Belfour, from the Bay of Honduras for London, is put into Bermudas.
 The Acton, Gunning, from Malaga for London, is lost near Lanelly in Wales, the Crew saved.
 We have receiv'd Advice, That thirteen Seamen belonging to the Ship Liberty, Capt. Strangeways, of Liverpool, surprized in Wydah-road the Sloop Grace, of Rhode-Island, and having bound the Sloop's Company, and put them in the Boat with a Compass, went off with the said Sloop, intending, as they said, for the Island of Princes, where, it is hoped the Portuguese Governour will stop them. As they are short of Provisions, they must go thither, and having only these 13 Men, 3 of whom are Servants, they may not be able to venture upon any Ships coming off the Coast.
